Dear Marymount Students,

We are so very sorry to learn that Marymount California University is closing. Like Marymount, Pacific is a smaller university, so we know that the closure of Marymount will be hard on students, faculty and staff who have close relationships.

Pacific University is in Oregon and we have earned awards for our work with transfer students. We realize that you probably never expected to be a transfer student, so please know that we are here to help you sort out your next steps. You can learn more about Pacific at pacificu.edu – please note the “u” in pacificu.edu. We have a tightly-knit campus in an exceptionally beautiful part of the country.

We are committed to doing everything we can to make sure that you graduate on-time and in the majors you have chosen. We offer both merit-based and need-based financial aid, so please don’t let the sticker price of Pacific scare you.

You can contact Justin McRobert by email: mcrobert@pacificu.edu or by phone: 503-352-2706 and he will help you navigate your application to Pacific. www.PacificU.edu/transfer

To help Marymount California University students, we will waive our usual application as well as many general education, graduation, and residency requirements in order to facilitate an on-time graduation. Justin can help talk you through those accommodations.

Sincerely,

Sarah Phillips, Dean
